the second on C. R. Grimmett.

An indictment is returned against Tom Rice an Indian from the Shevwitt reservation near St. George, sharging him with manslaughter. It is alleged that Rice killed another indian by the name of John Rice, by itting him in the head with an axtion died as a result of the injuries inflicted. The Indians, although bearing the same surname, are not related.

Indictments are returned against William Morgan and Frank Sprague, on charges of counterfeiting and passing counterfeit coin. Morgan and Sprague operated in Ogden, where Morgan is said to have passed counterfeit quarters upon Robert Majors and Sprague handed spurious half deliars to May Mitchell. On a second count Sprague is charged with the act of counterfeiting.

Linden Watson of Colton is also charged with circulating counterfeit coins in an indictment returned by the grand jury. Watson is said to have passed counterfeit 25 cent pieces at Colton on March 8, 1910.

Three of the indictments found by the grand jury have not been made public, on account of the fact that the parties charged with the offenses are not yet under arrest. Indictments are returned against

For the Arrest of the Park City Gambling House Holdups.

For some time Friday evening it was soffered the two hold-ups who robbed the Oak saloon at Park City early Friday morning would be captured Iwo susplctous characters were seen the displictors characters were seen at Heiliday about 7 o'clock Friday evening by J. E. Robinson of that place. They answered the description of the robbers and Robinson secured a horse and followed them to Murray. Within half a mile of the residence of Marshal Michael Mauss he telephoned to that officer and also notified Lieutenant Shanhon of the local police department. A search was at that officer and also notified Lieutenant Shambon of the local police department. A search was at once instituted but the two men had disappeared and no further trace of them could be found. It is believed that the highwaymen went to Brighton from Park City and then made their way through the canyon to Holliday and thence to Murray.

Henry Sprague, one of the proprietors of the Ouk saloun, has offered a reward of $1.000 for the apprehension of the highwaymen if they are raptured by Summit county officials, and $500 if they are caught by officers of any other county.

When the hold-up occurred, one of the robbers said to an inmate of the saloon: "Take a good look at me. I'm Kid Parker and I'll be back in six months."

SHEEP AND CATTLE OWNERS MAY GLASH

News of Impending War Comes From Colorado Point. Where Situation Is Becoming Tense.

Word comes from Grand Junction Colo., of an impending range war between the sheep owners of eastern Utah and the cattlemen and homesteaders of the Big Park country, ir steaders of the Big Park country, in western Colorado. The sheepmen have for years been in the habit of grazing their sheep on the range now claimed by the cattlemen and homesteaders, and the report that several thousand head of sheep were to be driven into Colorado from Cisco and other eastern Utah camps has aroused the Coloradoans to a high pitch of anger. In fact Goslen Bros., sheepmen of Cisco, Utah, and Charles K. Wallis, their manager, have received letters threatening them with death if they attempt to drive their sheep into the cattle range.

to drive their sheep into the cattle range.

A few days ago the homesteaders and cattlemen of the Big Park country held a meeting to protest against the proposed action of the Utah sheepmen, and resolutions were adopted protesting against the proposed inroad of the Utah flocks. Goslen Bros. and others built a steel bridge across the Grand river at the Utah line for the purpose of driving their sheep across into Colorado, and they are preparing to make their drive as usual.

TROUBLE ON CAR LINE.

There was all kinds of trouble for street car men on Second South and State street this morning when one of the electric engines jumped the track and plowed deeply into the sand where re-pairs on the grade are being made. The pairs on the grade are being made. The engine ran onto a broken switch and then off the tracks into the street. Murray car No. 402 tried to pull the engine onto the track but the drawhead was pulled out and chains were broken, and then the Murray car emulated the example set by the engine, and it jumped the track. More cars were brought into requisition and between pulling and pushing and lifting with jacks, supplemented with "temparks" from the crew, the mixup was eventually righted, and all went happily afterwards. No particular damage was done.

L. M. LEVINSON ARRIVES.

L. M. Levinson, who will take charge of the electrified Salt Lake & Ogden railroad as superintendent, has arrived in Salt Lake and will assume his new duties today. Mr. Levinson comes here in Sait Lake and will assume his new duties today. Mr. Levinson comes here from Shreveport, La., where he has been connected with the Shreveport Traction company and the Highland Park Traction company as manager and superintendent for several years. He is a thoroughly qualified railroad man, having had many years' experience in all branches of steam and electrical railroading. Thirteen years ago Mr. Levinson was a resident of Sait Lake, having come here as chief clerk in the office of J. F. Dunn, superintendent of motive power and machinery on the Oregon Short Line, After leaving Sait Lake Mr. Levinson went to the Kansas City Southern railroad, going thence to Shreveport, where he became superintendent and then manager of the Traction railways. During Mr. Levinson's incumbency of the managership of the Shreveport lines, the mileage of the road was doubled, and the road never had a minute's trouble from labor sources. Mr. Levinson carries now as a mark of esteem of the employes of that road, a handsomely engraved gold watch; and just before he left the Louisiana town the directors of the road presented him with another handsome token of their esteem. Mr. Levinson has been married only a short time and with his bride he has taken temporary quartars at 150 north West Temple street.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

The Short Line construction department has laid the double track exten-ion from Woods Cross to Farmington, there for the present the double tracking will end. On account of the tem-orary closing of the Sait Lake Route, the proposed extension from Farming-ton to Devil's Gate in Weber canyon, to connect there with the Union Pa-dific road, is held in abeyance for the next 90 days. By that time the Salt Lake Route will be in full operation once more and the long considered plan to divert the southern California traffic from the Union Pacific at Devil's traffic from the Union Pacific at Devil's Gate to the south side of the canyon and thence direct to Salt Lake via Farmington, will then be carried out. Eventually the track between Ogden and Farmington will be doubled, but this may not be for another year, though for a mile or two south of Ogden the improvement may be made.

The Short Line officials who went to Mackay to inspect the local system of irrigation, have returned much pleased with the layout which is planned to irrigate 150,000 acres. A branch line of 25 miles will be built to accommodate the new settlers who are flocking into that country pretty fast.

Patriarch Lorenzo Hill Hatch filled

many positions of honor and his long life was spent in bettering the condition of his fellow man. He was born in Lincoln, Addison county, Vermont, Jan. 24, 1826. Joined the Latter-day Saints Church in 1840. With his father and his family settled in Nauvoo, Ili, in 1842. Soon thereafter Lorenzo was called to go back to his native state to preach the gospel, and was there when the Prophet Joseph was martyred. He came to Utah in 1850, and in 1851, moved to Lehi. He served as a member of the Utah legislature for three or four terms. Filled a mission in England in 1855-7-8, and returning was elected mayor of Lehi. Going in Idaho he was prominently identified with the upbuilding of several towns in that state, particularly Franklin. being its first mayor. He also served in the Idaho legislature. In 1875 was called south to Arizona and New Mexico to preach to the Indians there, and he did a great work among them. baptizing quite a number of the Navajoes. He came back to Cache in 1883 and stayed a couple of years, when he received a call to go to Arizona, and he at once responded. He remained there and in the harness until 1991 when members of his family asked that he be released from his duties. The request was complied with but the deceased resented, in a measure this action of his children, asserting that as long as he could work he wanted to be active in the gospel cause, and since coming here he has not been idle. He couldn't bear the idea of rusting out. The Church never had a more industrious, untiring worker than he, one ever ready to put his hand to the task nearest, and labor at it unceasingly. Notwithstanding his arduous duties as a pioneer and community builder, he reared a large family and every member of it reflects credit on his name. His sons are men of substance and reliability, and like the daughters are respected in the communities when they reside. The most prominent among them perhaps is H. E. Hatch of this city, president of the Thatcher Hose. Banking Co. His children are: L. L. Hatch, Clarissa A.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

LOGAN, April 22.—The city council met tonight and for the first time this year proceeded to business without friction, the Republican members bowing to the decision of the court and recognizing John T. Caine Jr., as the president of the council. The only trouble arose on the presentation of the report of the rules committee, recommending the retaining of the old rules except the 4th and 16th. The first gives the president the right to pame the committees, and the 16th rename the committees, and the 18th requires that all the mayor's appointments be submitted to the committees for approval before confirmation.

Prest. Caine announced that the committee appointments had been made and handed a list to each councilman. Objection was raised from the Republican side and on appeal the question resulted in a tie vote.

The resignation of Charles F Martineau as watermaster was accepted. The mayor nominated Niels Carlson to fill the vacancy, but as he was a member of the last city council, he was not legally eligible for a city office for one year, and the appointment was returned to the mayor unconfirmed.

Moses Olsen was appointed as city sexton and Lyman M. Smith as night fire chief; both confirmed.
